

CHRIS CRAFT UTILITY

1947

The "Utility" models were introduced during the depression to offer runabouts with less features at more affordable prices . This strategy took hold as this trend became the best-selling sector of the runabout market. Our model is fashioned after a 1947 17' Utility and features rubber floor mats, varnished wood hull and deck, brass rudder and propeller and much more. An excellent value and a nice addition to any runabout collection.
