

CHRIS CRAFT COBRA

1955

In 1955, Chris Craft built only 106 Cobra models in 18 and 21 ft. sizes. This revolutionary design was very popular at shows but unfortunately did not sell and was discontinued after only one year. This makes the Cobra one of the most sought after collectibles in the runabout market today.

The cobra's large dorsal fin and aft deck were fiberglass, their first ever experiment with the then new technology.
